NOTE TO BATTLE FRONT.

Kaiser in Galicia Studies Document: Berlin Likes Friendly Tone.

Berlin, June 12.—The second American note was in the hands of the Kaiser today. The complete text of the note was received from Berlin last night and was rushed to the emperor's headquarters at the Galician battlefront, being given preference over other dispatches at the Kaiser's personal request.

No official comment on the note's contents accompanied the text sent to the Kaiser, but it was expected today. It is understood that the Kaiser's office desires that the Kaiser first study the full text of the American note before he makes any official impression to Berlin before the diplomats here suggest a tentative outline for the German reply.

Americans Less Apprehensive.

The friendly phrasing of the second note removed apprehension from the Kaiser's office, according to American sources here. In official circles great care was taken to reserve all comment, but there was no disguising the fact that officials generally were pleased with its friendly tone, though they took the view that the situation with regard to the torpedoing of the Lusitania was in no way altered.

There is no indication, it was pointed out here, that America intends to recede from her former position.

Ambassador Gerard explained to Foreign Secretary von Jagow that the American rejoinder was published in the United States several hours before the text was formally presented to Germany because of delay in transmission of a message he sent to Washington.

Gerard's Message Too Late.

He cabled Washington, he told Von Jagow, requesting that publication be delayed until after he had notified the state department that the note was in the hands of the foreign secretary.

His cable to Washington apparently was delayed, arriving after the text had been given to the American newspapers.

are still fighting for the same principles of the Madero revolution) and for the welfare of the people. Carranza's reply pointed out that the Constitutionalist chief's refusal to take the presidency ad interim and call a general election to organize a Constitutional civil government. Carranza held out for a military government, said Villa.

"One of the greatest difficulties in the matter of foreign policy," Carranza says, "has been lack of understanding of other governments, particularly the United States." In his proclamation Carranza lays down the following principles obviously to learn how the Washington government regards them.

"Guaranty to foreigners of the rights to which they are entitled under the laws of Mexico as to life, liberty and property.

"Indemnity for property damaged during the revolution on a just, fair basis.

"Restoration of peace and order."

CARRANZA ASKS RECOGNITION.

"First Chief" Says Constitutionalist Practically Control Mexico.

Washington, June 12.—General Carranza's reply to President Wilson's Mexican declaration reached the state department today.

It was in the form of a proclamation issued by Carranza at Vera Cruz today. Carranza makes a bid for recognition by the United States, asserts that the Constitutionalist practically control Mexico, and contains assurance that Carranza will call a regular election by the United States to the president chosen. The document is about 3,000 words.

PUT TEUTONS BACK

Attempt to Move on Lemberg Is Given Signal Check.

Petrograd, June 12.—Under heavy pressure from the Russian left wing, General Linsingen's Austro-German army that attempted to move on Lemberg from the south is being coiled back all alone the Dniester. An official statement today reported the capture of 1,000 Austro-Germans in a battle at Otyina, 20 miles southeast of Stanislav.

The war office today admitted the evacuation of Stanislav by the Russians. It was explained that to shorten the Russian line and concentrate for an effective defense of Lemberg, the Slav army that advanced against Bukovina was withdrawn from the River Pruth region and sent in a northwesterly direction toward Stry.

with firmness, all seize upon its essential point, that there can be no further negotiations until assurances are forthcoming that American lives and American ships will be safeguarded.

Notice is taken by the newspapers of the full opportunity that is given to Germany, as some of them express it, "to save her face," and some measure of surprise is expressed by Mr. Bryan should have considered it necessary to resign a secretary of state, after first having signed the first note. The Daily Telegraph says:

"The spirit of the second note is exactly that of the first and it leaves us to wonder even more than we did before, why Mr. Bryan thought it necessary to resign. There is nothing of a minatory character in the note, nothing that the most fervid imagination could construe into a challenge or ultimatum. We are certain that a great majority of the Americans will give whole-hearted support to their president in the dignified position he now has assumed."

Phrased in Friendly Fashion.

"The note gives Germany every opportunity of saving her face, if she so desires," says The Daily Chronicle. "The Morning Post is puzzled to find the reason for the resignation of Secretary of State Bryan 'since the note contains nothing new.' The paper continues:

"The friendly phrasing of the second note removed apprehension from the Kaiser's office, according to American sources here. In official circles great care was taken to reserve all comment, but there was no disguising the fact that officials generally were pleased with its friendly tone, though they took the view that the situation with regard to the torpedoing of the Lusitania was in no way altered."

Material for Procrastination.

The Times says "it is inclined to believe that Germany will not reject the demands, but will resume negotiations and endeavor to preserve friendly relations with the United States, especially as Wilhelmstrasse can discover in various passages of the note material for procrastination if it so desires."

The Daily Graphic remarks that the note lacks the "fire eating" character which many people had hoped for it. "Mr. Wilson replies to the Germans point by point, and both in logic and fact has the better of the argument," says the Graphic.

Legitimate Rights Respected.

The Standard says: "The president shows no disposition to interfere with Germany's legitimate rights as a belligerent, but insists that such rights must be exercised without infringing the dictates of humanity, and, as this is impossible by German submarine warfare, the president can only satisfy the president's reasonable demands by consenting to abandon their under-water piracy."

The Daily News today discussed the American note to Germany in an editorial based on the supposition that the demand for assurances was what the resignation of Secretary of State Bryan.
